Down

- 1 Collection of literary works originally published separately reprinted together in a single volume; horse-drawn public transportation in Victorian era and basis of expression from English law “a man on the Clapham ...” indicating a hypothetical ordinary, reasonable person and how they may be reasonably expected to think
- 2 German experimental musician from 70s with cool punk name (1, 1, 5)
- 3 State of lethargic, world-weary disappointment when everything seems stale and meaningless associated with existentialists and beatniks
- 4 Nil interest (initials)
- 5 Gritty Chicano rapper known for celebration of gang life in Nipomo, Southern California with amusing YouTube comments such as “What a respectable group of wonderful people. I’m sure they’re fantastic members of the community and contributing a lot to society” and “What a sweet girl. She has a bright future ahead of her. She seems so considerate and kind. Wow, something you don’t see much these days. She’d make a great mother and wife. Wish her the best” etc.
- 6 Greatly loved US musician know for The Ballad of Jed Clampett and unusual name
- 12 “Wer, wenn ich schrie, hörte mich denn aus der Engel Ordnungen?” Celebrated Austrian poet known for famous opening line heard as voice in howling wind during solitary walk (but I do not see myself in him) (WARNING Cryptic)
- 15 Biblical patriarch (and nephew of Abraham) known for offering virgin daughters to men of Sodom (in place of visiting angels whom they wanted to “know”) (also impregnating daughters while drunk in Levitical slur against hated nations of Moab and Ammon)
